

Community Workshop Series

University Place Elementary School | 2000 1st Ave, Tuscaloosa, AL 35401

Join us for DCGP's community workshop series at University Place Elementary School. Experts in the field will teach tried-and-tested farm concepts that apply to backyard gardens. Participants should prepare to be outside, to wear clothes that can get dirty and to bring a water bottle. No prior experience necessary.

*Participants are strongly recommended to email info@druidcitygardenproject.org to reserve their spot.

Free the Plants! Propagation techniques for the home gardener – Adelaide Drennen

October 11th, 9 - 11a.m. | Cost: $20, Student: $10

Learn how to propagate plants in your backyard. This workshop, taught by skilled Landscape Designer Adelaide Drennen, will demonstrate propagation techniques for a variety of vegetables, shrubs, flowers, and annuals to get your garden blooming, even through the winter months.

Backyard Composting – Josalyn Randall

November 8th, 9-11 a.m. | Cost: $20, student: $10

Is good soil too expensive to buy? Have you ever wondered how you can reduce your waste while helping your garden? Want to get in on the gardener's gold? If so, it sounds like composting is for you! Join us as we teach methods, strategies, and systems for the easiest and best backyard compost systems that any home eater can do.